American Indian and Indigenous Studies Curriculum

Major in American Indian and Indigenous Studies
The major in American Indian and Indigenous Studies consists of nine courses: AMST/HIST 110, AMST 203, and seven additional courses chosen from the following categories. At least one of the courses must be at the 300-level or above.

- Introduction: AMST/HIST 110
- Approaches: AMST 203
- History (at least two of the following): AMST 337, 339; AMST/HIST 231, 233, 235; AMST/HIST/ANTH 234; HIST 232; HIST/WMST 576
- Social Science (at least two of the following): AMST/HIST/ANTH 234; ANTH 206, 250, 252, 451; ANTH/FOLK 230
- Expressive Culture (at least two of the following): AMST 246, 336, 338, 340; SPAN 348
- One other course drawn from the above list or approved by the Director of Undergraduate Studies

We occasionally offer topics courses and seminars that are not listed above. These can still be counted toward fulfilling the major concentration and minor requirements.

In addition, as their elective, students may choose a course focusing on indigenous peoples outside of the present-day United States. If the course does not appear in the list of approved global indigenous courses, prior approval from the American Indian Studies curriculum coordinator is required.

If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact the American Indian and Indigenous Studies Coordinator.

Minor in American Indian and Indigenous Studies
The minor in American Indian and Indigenous Studies consists of five courses: AMST/HIST 110 and four additional courses chosen from the following categories. Minors are strongly encouraged, though not required, to take AMST 203: Approaches to American Indian Studies.

- Introduction: AMST/HIST 110
- Approaches: AMST 203
- History (at least two of the following): AMST 337, 339; AMST/HIST 231, 233, 235; AMST/HIST/ANTH 234; HIST 232; HIST/WMST 576
- Social Science (at least two of the following): AMST/HIST/ANTH 234; ANTH 206, 250, 252, 451; ANTH/FOLK 230
- Expressive Culture (at least two of the following): AMST 246, 336, 338, 340; SPAN 348
• One other course drawn from the above list or approved by the Director of Undergraduate Studies

We occasionally offer topics courses and seminars that are not listed above. These can still be counted toward fulfilling the major concentration and minor requirements.

In addition, as their elective, students may choose a course focusing on indigenous peoples outside of the present-day United States. If the course does not appear in the list of approved global indigenous courses, prior approval from the American Indian Studies curriculum coordinator is required.

If you have any questions, do not hesitate to contact the American Indian and Indigenous Studies Coordinator.